Putting the Sexy back into Subrogation

Presented by

Neil Colville-Reeves
Insurance Institute of Canada

Learning the ins and outs of subrogation could help you to improve your bottom line, your loss ratios and even your policyholder retention. How does subrogation really work? Who are the people involved? Do you have the knowledge needed to discuss this with your client after a claim occurs? Will the adjuster or insurer actually work to put money back into their own pockets, or will it be your advice that changes the outcome of your clients' fate?
